

Internationally active - New sugar beet varieties from Strube

Strube's intensive activities in breeding sugar beets were rewarded: in 2019, the company is pleased about the registration of many new varieties in Western and Eastern Europe.

With more than 30 new sugar beets varieties in 13 countries, Strube offers farmers and the industry numerous qualitative varieties, that meet their requirements. Therewith the seed breeding company makes its contribution to an economic sugar production from beets.

Click on the map to enlarge it.